Greater Port Washington Business Improvement District Hangs Nautical Banners Around Port

The Greater Port Washington Business Improvement District (BID), in conjunction with the Town of North Hempstead, has placed beautiful "Welcome to Port Washington" nautical sailboat banners at the Town Dock, LIRR and Manorhaven Park Parking Lots.

"Since these banners have been hung we have been receiving a positive response in the office and on our Facebook page. We are excited that the business owners and residents of Port Washington enjoy looking at these beautiful banners," stated Mariann Dalimonte, Executive Director of the BID.

To find out more about the BID, please visit our website at www.portwashingtonbid.org.

Birds of Long Island Program at Sands Point Preserve

The Volunteers for Wildlife care for approximately 1,000 injured wild birds and animals each year. In this live animal presentation, we will meet some of the animals in their care and learn why each animal chooses to call Long Island home.

Because of the special work they do everyday, the Volunteers for Wildlife staff is uniquely qualified to share the details of the lives of our feathered friends, such as owls, hawks, crows, ducks and doves. This program will feature two live animal sessions, each followed by a family craft activity. Session times: 11:00-11:30 am or 11:30 am -12:00 pm.

Preregistration is required. Please email your name and the number of adults and children (with their ages) to info@friendsspp.org. Admission $15 per car / $5 per car with Annual Pass.

For more information visit thesandspointpreserve.com or call 516-571-7901.

REASONS TO CELEBRATE

Well, May is finally here along with the long awaited spring season. The ice is off the bay, the flag is back up at the entrance to Sheets Creek, the flower boxes sponsored by the Residents for a More Beautiful Port Washington and maintained by Falconer's, are blooming along Main Street and the new banners, sponsored by the Business Improvement District, are flying over the Town Dock, Manorhaven Park and the LIRR Station.

Speaking of flying, the birds are back including the magnificent hawk making his home in Manorhaven Park. Almost makes it worth going through the difficult winter just past.

This alone, is a lot to celebrate.

Then, when we looked over the holidays and events for May we realized how much more we have to celebrate at this time of year: With Cinco De Mayo we celebrate our diversity, Mother's Day provides the opportunity to celebrate those who have held so many families close.

Memorial Day gives pause to celebrate those who fought to protect our national interests and way of life.

Locally, we will be celebrating HarborFest early next month... A reminder of all the things that bring us together and make our community great!

Add it all up and we should all celebrate... and give thanks.

Cheers,

Dave Allen Dave@PWCalendar.com

Cow Neck Historical Society Announces Sands-Willets House Modified Tour Dates for 2015

Due to preparation for a major costume exhibit, due to open in the fall, tours of Sands-Willets House will be limited to May 3, May 17, June 7 at 2 pm sharp. The docent lead tour lasts about an hour. The suggested donation for tours is $5.

The Cow Neck Historical Society maintains the Sands-Willets House, part of which dates from the early 1700s, as a museum and educational center. Located in the Incorporated Village of Flower Hill, the house is typical of the Long Island farmhouses that grew to fit the need of the families who lived in them.

The Sands-Willets House has 18 rooms, 11 of which are furnished and open to the public. The Sands family, merchants, farmers, and Patriot leaders, built and lived in the house from 1735 to 1845. Colonel John Sands II, served in Washington's army. The Willets family, prominent in Quaker affairs, owned the homestead from 1845 to 1967. Edmund Willets was active in the abolition movement prior to the Civil War.

The house is a Village of Flower Hill Historic Landmark and is also listed on the State and National Registers of Historic Places.

The Sands-Willets House is located at 336 Port Washington Blvd. For more info call 365-9074 or go to their website at cowneck.org.

will boast different local artist's work on display and available for purchase (a percentage of sales will go directly to HEARTS). The popular Silent Auction tent will be chock full of incredible prizes, baskets, and experiences.

Damon Gersh, Founder and chairman of HEARTS remarked "The funds raised since the first PortFest have been able to fund over $100,000 in new music and arts program grants for the students in the Port Washington school district."

He added "Attending these programs and seeing the engagement and enjoyment on the kids' faces is always immensely gratifying."

On May 16, Port Washington will come together, as a community that values creativity, self-expression, and the importance of a quality arts education. In a time of tight school budgets and emphasis on testing, take a moment to support the pursuit of imagination, inspiration, and soul.

Admission to PortFest is FREE and there will be plenty of free parking at the Schreiber High School Campus.

For a schedule of events or for a link to make a donation, go to www.pwportfest.org.

To connect with HEARTS, as a volunteer or to make a donation, log onto www.heartspw.org or facebook.com/heartspw or email heartspw@gmail.com. If you log onto HEARTS website, you will see a link to Crowdrise, which will enable you to set up a fundraising tool that you can share via email or social media.
