PUBLISHER'S COLUMN

Dave Allen

We Want vs Lip Service.
We know it is the right thing to say but...Do we know it?

We watch as one new retailer, building or company has difficulty opening up and/or staying in Port and wonder how much of the rhetoric regarding keeping firms here and shopping Port are real and how much is lip service.

It reminds me of the small town in Illinois where I lived before moving to Port. It was a planned community and the builders 'donated' a significant piece of the property for a "Central Park." It was a good park for picnicking, tennis, basketball, holiday events and boy's baseball... but no lights and very limited utilities.

Our local boy's baseball group needed a storage shed for their equipment, and came to the Lions Club for assistance. We met with the village board with a plan for a 20 by 30 cinder block building, located unobtrusively and landscaped, that the Lions would pay for... and EVERYONE AGREED... I thought.

Then one member suggested it would be great to get rid of the Coke shacks and build them onto the structure, then another suggested a 30' by 20' concrete patio for picnics, then another suggested including restrooms (at which point the building commissioner exclaimed that it would have to be "prison plumbing." Finally, someone came up with the final straw... a roof over the patio to keep out the weather "with, maybe, the ability to close it in."

The result: a 60' by 60' "shed" that was completely unaffordable and would kill one ballfield. PROJECT KILLED – with no one against it, but no one really willing to fight for it.

Is Port following suit? Port is losing Publisher's Clearing house, a mainstay of the area...the Long Island Alzheimer's Association is possibly next. How long does it really take to open a business here in Port? Two years? Or more? Everyone: officials, citizens, organizations, the Chamber, The GPWBID, Residents for a More Beautiful Port Washington, all express concern. Are we working as hard for them, or is it just lip service?
